Oils Stronger In Dull Trade On the Market. Wild Fluctuations in Cotton Overshadow Irregular Session on Stock Exchange; Sugars Weak

Wild fluctuations in cotton prices overshadowed an irregular professional market in speculative securities yesterday and supplied the chief point of interest in Wall Street.

The condition report of the government on cotton made interesting reading. The report showed a condition of 42.2, a new low record, which is some 20 points below the average condition for this time of the year for the last ten years.

Money and Credit. Call money turned easier on the Stock Exchange yesterday. While the general rate was 6 1/2 per cent, interest offerings around the noon hour carried at down to 6 per cent, which was also the closing rate.

The Dollar in Foreign Exchange. Foreign exchange rates moved within a narrow range in yesterday's market. Bid and ask quotations showed an irregular trend, with a decline on London of 3/4 of a cent higher at 37 3/4.

Investment Prices. —have been advancing steadily, conforming to the easier money market. We recommend the purchase of underlying railroad bonds and securities of established lighting and power properties.

In Wall Street. Mexican Petroleum. There is still a lot of conjecture in the Street regarding the nature of the agreement entered into with the Mexican government by American oil men.

Low Priced Oils Higher. Inevitable Oil. Transcontinental, Conde Central, Middle States and Maryland Oil were the speculative favorites in yesterday's market.

Burns Brothers-Parrell Coal. The plan by which it is intended that Burns Brothers and William Farrell & Son shall be brought together under one holding company, it is understood, should be completed.

American Sugar. The promise of a new American Sugar issue yesterday brought a revival of reports that the company is considering new financing.

Cuba Cane Issues Weaker. The seriousness and uncertainties still existing in the sugar industry were emphasized yesterday in further heavy selling of Cuba Cane issues.

Prevention of Freight Losses. According to a special report covering the recent campaign in the eastern States of the United States to prevent loss and damage to freight in transit, the most important results of this drive are announced as follows:
